There's no reason the bathroom should be any less gadget-laden than other rooms in the house. This kit will ensure you look and feel your best, ready for whatever the day ahead might hold.

There's only one way to start the morning and that's with some top tunes. The Tivoli Audio IPAL radio (£170, tivoli-audio.co.uk) only does FM and AM, but makes up for it with a water-resistant case, rechargeable battery and quality sonics. And if the DJ likes the sound of their own voice a bit much, there's a 3.5mm aux-in for your MP3 player. Washing such a handsome visage as yours with simple soap and water is a crime. Instead, use the shower-friendly Clarisonic (£150, clarisonic.com), which uses sonic micro-massage tech combined with a gentle brushing action to clean your pores and prep your skin for a silky-smooth shave.

After showering, dry off with an extra-absorbent Missoni Home Jazz Towel (from £40 for a hand and bath towel set, amara.co.uk) and wrap up in the luxury of the matching hooded bathrobe (£150 for a large), then grab a Braun Series 3 390cc shaver (£160, braun.com/uk) and give your whiskers the once-over – unlike most it'll handle long or short stubble, and you can wet- or dry-shave. Why stop there, though? The BaByliss Easy Cut (£40, www.babyliss.co.uk) is designed to make trimming your barnet as simple as possible (and will free up haircut money for more gadgets), while Remington's PG520 Navigator (£35, www.uk.remington-europe.com) includes enough attachments to keep any other unruly body hair in check.

Once you're as aerodynamic as possible, smooth your skin to perfection with Clinique's Post Shave Healer lotion (from £16, clinique.co.uk). Then give your digits a trim with an Alessi Canaglia nail clipper (£10.50, www.alessi.co.uk) – your smartphone deserves to be prodded with tidy fingers, after all. And if you want to give your gnashers a Hollywood gleam, break out Oral-B's Triumph 5000 (£160, oralb.com/en-UK). It uses Bluetooth to connect the brush to its stand's display, which tells you how long to brush for and advises you on your brushing technique.

All done? Then chuck your towel and stinky dober into a Simplehuman Double X-Frame Laundry Hamper (£100, simplehuman.co.uk) so it's got somewhere stylish to live until laundry day. And while we're talking style, give your bathroom a lift with some glossy Umbra Orvino accessories (from £3.80, redcandy.co.uk).

Finally, before you depart to don the day's outré chic outfit, step onto the Tanita BC-351 body composition monitor (£200, selfridges.com) for a quick health check. It measures your weight, body fat, body water, muscle mass and numerous other factors to give you an overall physique rating. Not happy with what it tells you? Then check out our fitness gadgets on p68...

UPGRADE THE LOOK

Add five-star luxury to your bathroom with a waterproof TV from Aquavision (aquavision.co.uk). Switched off, it looks like a mirror, but fire it up with the waterproof remote and you can catch up with your favourite soap while lathering up with your favourite soap.
